3rd Annual

CONSTRUCTION TECHNOLOGY SHOWCASE

Who Should Attend: More than just the IT department...Estimators, Project Managers, Safety Department, Superintendents, Field Supervisors...or anyone within your company

Event details: Join us for our 3rd Annual Construction Technology Showcase. We have put together a great lineup of speakers for you that will include a range of technology in construction topics. We will start with a local BIM topic on where its at, how it works and where it's going. Then we will jump into the vastly growing technology components in the construction industry with the ConApp Guru. Lastly, we will provide time at the beginning, between speakers and at the end of the event to network with exhibitors!

Speakers:

Rob McKinney Known nationwide as the "Construction App Guru" Mr. McKinney travels around the country as a leading authority on Construction Applications and construction technology. He is a member of the JB Knowledge consulting team that assists general contractors and subcontractors who are interested in using apps and software to improve their process and deliver a higher level of service to their clients.
